Code of Conduct

A code of conduct is a set of rules that outlines the social norms, responsibilities and proper practices of an individual. It is an important document in many workplaces.

As a class, and in collaboration with your teacher, write a code of conduct for your classroom.

Using the whiteboard or large sheets of flipchart paper, create a list of expectations for each student to follow to ensure a positive working environment.

You will need to work as a team to create a document that every member of the class deems fair and achievable.
