This Is Shakespeare

Presenting a lively look at two of Shakespeare's most iconic plays, Romeo and Juliet and Macbeth, the roles of minor characters and the importance of specific dramatic techniques form the focal points of this entertaining mockumentary series.

Romeo and Juliet - Minor Characters

Picture the scene - a dodgy amateur impresario intends to stage a production of Romeo and Juliet and enlists the help of a motley cast whose performances would have the Bard turning over in his grave. This light-hearted programme is designed to help viewers grasp the importance of minor characters in Shakespeare's famous tragic romance, and for this performance, 'tragic' is the right word..

Macbeth - Minor Characters

The horror effects that Shakespeare intended to communicate through his play, Macbeth, pale into insignificance when we witness the truly awful acting of Trevor Kervis' amateur theatre production. In this programme, the roles of minor characters are explored in terms of their effects on the delivery of the themes of the play. Trevor's production is a tragedy in every sense.

Macbeth - Dramatic Techniques

Never before has Shakespeare's 'Scottish play' been performed quite like this. Trevor Kervis, director unextraordinaire, strikes again in this farcical look at the dramatic techniques in Macbeth that have made it a favourite among thespians since Elizabethan times. Students will enjoy the quirky characters and upbeat analysis that feature in the programme. If 'all the world's a stage' then Trevor Kervis must be the clown.
